KAWS LOST BOTH

Rustenhaven Was Wild and Taylor Was Not Effective.

Boosters Were Hitting Good-Kaws Fielded Better.

Des Moines, May 31.-Des Moines won a doubleheader from Topeka by taking the first game by the score of to 2 and the second game by the score of 9 to 4. Rustenhaven was wild in the first game and Taylor was ineffective in the second contest. The second contest was called at the end of the sixth on account of darkness. Red Faber was pitted against Rus-tenhaven in the first game and was in good condition. His teammates were unable to bunch hits off Rustenhaven and did not succeed in scoring the de-ciding runs until the eighth inning. Husty hit one batsman and walked

After the Topekans had scored four runs in the first two innings of the second game, the Boosters solved Taylor's slant and scored four runs in the last of the second. They scored four more in the third inning and Reynolds was sent to relieve Taylor and he al-lowed but one run in the last three innings. innings.

The Kaws outfielded the locals alugh neither was up to the stand-l. The score:

ED WALSH'S STRONG RIGHT ARM LOOKS GOOD FOR MANY YEARS TO COME.

Four poses of Ed Walsh.

Ed Walsh, famous hurler of the Chicago White Sox and the "iron man" of all modern pitchers, has shown his old form in games played this year. To say that he is showing his old form means that he is feared by every man in the American league who must stand up before his wonderful pitching. Though he has played league ball for eleven years, Walsh today is at the zenith of his power. With his magnificent physique and strong right arm he looks good to last many years.

General Joe Jackson of the Cleveland Naps is gaining a reputation around the American League circuit for his sliding to bases. There is rarely a game goes by in which Joe does not stir up the dirt around the base paths. Joe not only wants to rival Cobb as leading hitter, but also as a slider. He has adopted the hook form of going to a base that made Cobb so popular.
